Flag-Staff Inn provides an intimate situation too well known to require any further observation no exertions shall be wanting pure air, delightful scenery a retired locality within a few minutes stroll the heart of the city no trifling advantages meets the wishes of all classes all the comforts, the tastes of all without fear of interruption no stone left unturned all parties share substantial inducements secure bullock yards, good stabling well aired-bedrooms

no pains spared

the prospect of uninterrupted health the absolute certainty of a return to convalescence

the very best accommodation a well lined larder for man and beast may be depended upon one trial will prove it deserving all the praise
